

RAKER HAS TILT WITH DR. JOHNSON

Mission Head Says He Sees No Reason to Prohibit the Inter-marriage of Japanese With White Race Members

Kawakami Proves a Baffling Witness; Congressman Hits Table With Fists, Demands Yes, No Answers of Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—The Japanese in California were defended before the immigration committee today by a Californian from the Imperial Valley as the social equals of the white race.

Dr. H. B. Johnson, on the witness stand, was asked by Representative Raker, California, if he believed in inter-marriage of the Japanese with the white race.

Johnson, founded on social equality, Johnson said, "There is no reason, so far as I can see, why inter-marriage should not be permitted."

Dr. Johnson is superintendent of a mission and is known to be familiar with Japanese affairs.

WITNESS EVADES MARRIAGE QUESTION

"You favor inter-marriage then," Representative Raker asked Johnson. The witness evaded the question. Dr. Johnson asked Congressman Selig whether it was seriously considering the admission of Japanese to this country, whether they were allowed to enter annually on the eastern coast.

There was quite a tilt between Raker and Dr. Johnson because the latter repeatedly interrupted the witness whenever Raker tried to draw from him a direct answer as to whether he favored Japanese colonization.

Johnson would continually allude to the negro question in the south to prove his point.

"What we are trying to get at is the question of Japanese colonization," said Selig, "and you are making it difficult by continually bringing in other questions not at issue."

KAWAKAMI PROVES BAFILING WITNESS

K. K. Kawakami declared by a witness to be the personal representative of the mission in America, proved a baffling witness in the committee today in its probe of the Japanese situation.

Kawakami evaded direct answers. Only once when Representative Raker asked him if he was an American citizen, he answered "yes" and demanded in loud tones a "yes or no," did Kawakami make such an answer.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kawakami, an American girl, former of General Ill., listened intently. She was introduced to the committee members and proved an engaging conversationalist. Raker asked Kawakami what his views were as to Japanese exclusion.

Kawakami replied that his views had been expressed in a letter which the committee had received. "I want your views expressed right now," Raker said, "regardless of the letter."

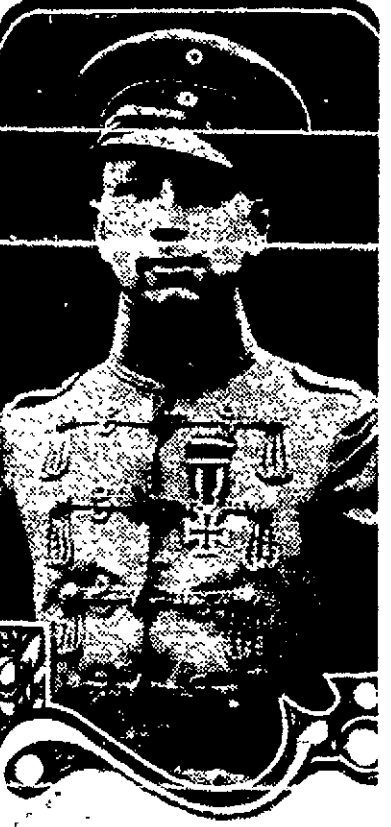

"The letter says I have to say," replied Kawakami, "I have with me."

Raker pounded the table with his fist.

"Do you favor exclusion of the Japanese and Chinese? Answer yes or no," Raker thundered.

"No," said Kawakami. He explained then that he favored citizenship to both.

Sheriff Races With Prisoner To Los Angeles

Fullerton Ranch Crime Rouses Lynching Fear; Confession is Claimed.

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—(By Associated Press.)—Outwitting what was believed to have been a mob plot, Sheriff Jackson of Orange county arrived here today with Henry Washington, negro, alleged slayer of Roy G. Trapp, wealthy Fullerton, Cal., rancher. Under a guard of five the suspect was taken to the Los Angeles county jail for safe keeping until intense feeling at Fullerton, the scene of the crime, subsided.

Shortly after the negro was locked up, the report spread that he was here and a crowd swarmed around the jail doors. A few minutes later Washington was secretly taken out of a rear door of the jail and led to the district attorney's office.

There he confessed, it is said, to killing Trapp and criminally attacking Mrs. Trapp.

The authorities, claiming, Washington reached Los Angeles after an all-night drive from Needles during which the officers dodged machines carrying friends of the slain man seeking vengeance.

Deputy Sheriff Troutman of Phoenix, Ariz., stated that the negro was suspected of killing a man and woman named Earhart in Phoenix a month ago.

The man's arrest was brought about by Santa Fe ticket agent, Topoc, to whom the negro applied for a ticket to Albuquerque, N. M. The agents' suspicions were aroused by the size of the roll of bills the man displayed and because of certain characteristics that compared with those in the description of the Trapp murder suspect, sent broadcast by the Santa Ana authorities.

The agent notified officers at Needles.

Wilson prayed all day Sunday and then signified a willingness to confess the officers said.

J. R. Troutman, deputy sheriff of Phoenix, Ariz., said at Los Angeles today that an elderly couple had been murdered in Phoenix last month.

He said he would question Washington in the trap case before returning to Phoenix.

Suicide of Joachim Following Drunken Debauch Strikes Like Thunderbolt At Doorn —News Held From Mother

Royal Scion's Last Public Act Is To Demand Beer and Food At Potsdam, Leaving Without Making Payment

DOORN, Holland, July 18 (By the Associated Press).—The announcement of Prince Joachim's death came to Doorn Castle like a thunderbolt. The former German emperor, who during the last week has been again seriously troubled by heart ailment, was informed of the tragedy. The former emperor, however, has been told of it and has been greatly affected by the untimely end of his favorite son.

DRUNKEN DEBAUCH PRECEDES END, CLAIM

United Press Staff Correspondent. BERLIN, July 18.—Prince Joachim, sixth and youngest of the former Kaiser's sons, committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast as he lay in bed at the Villa Liegstein in San Souel park Saturday, as a result of brooding over his wife's desertion and effects of a drunken debauch on Friday night, according to belief here today.

Joachim died at 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Prince Eitel Friedrich, the only one of the former Kaiser's sons now living, issued a formal statement declaring that his son's suicide was the result of psychic disturbances caused by the pressure of events and personal difficulties.

He declared the child to be a love stricken youth. He omitted to mention that he had returned to his villa from Berlin Friday night, staggering with a head-ache and a broken heart, and had been in the room at the Potsdam villa since then.

He called himself for beer. He introduced himself to the waiter as Prince Joachim of Prussia, and said he had no railway ticket, and no money. He was allowed to leave the restaurant by the entrance instead of the turnstile at the exit, where he would have had to pay for his meal and beer.

Joachim will be buried Tuesday morning in the Friedrichsruhe at Potsdam.

Prince Joachim recently was divorced. He was the least talented of the emperor's sons. He held the rank of captain, but had never actively been at the front. He leaves one son.

Prince Joachim was born December 17, 1890, in Berlin; was married in 1915 to Princess Marie Augustine of Anhalt, who then was 17 years old.

GAMBLING AND DRINK BLAMED BY FRIENDS

BERLIN, July 19.—(International News Service.)—Friends of the dead prince said he had been drinking heavily for some time. He had contracted large gambling debts which he borrowed money to pay.

His creditors were pressing him and threatening to make trouble. This is believed to be one of the chief reasons that led to his suicide.

So far as known Joachim was not receiving an allowance from either his father or mother.

Count Reventlow, long a friend of Joachim, said that the dead youth had long brooded and was deeply depressed by his own family troubles, his debts and the illness of his father and mother. At first, Count Reventlow said, Joachim was optimistic over the possibility of a monarchy coup, but lately this hope had died out.

FREDERICK WILLIAM LEARNS OF DEATH

WIEN, July 19.—(Associated Press.)—The tidings of the death of Prince Joachim came as a great blow to his brother, the Kaiser, who learned the news from Adjutant von Muelheim. The relations between Joachim and Frederick William were always of the most friendly nature, the former being the favorite of the family. The former crown prince conferred this afternoon with his brother, the Kaiser, and probably will go to Doorn, the refuge of the former emperor, this afternoon.

OIL PLANTS' SEIZURE BY NAVY LIKELY

Private Fuel Supplies On the Pacific Coast Will Be Taken Over Before Department Shutdown Allowed, Report

Western Fleet Has Only Two Weeks' Reserve. While Oil Companies Refuse to Fill Demand at $1.72 a Barrel

With the failure of the big oil companies to supply the navy with fuel oil, as indicated by their refusal to comply with the navy's demands for 14,000 barrels of fuel oil at the navy's price of $1.72 a barrel, to be delivered at once, the navy officials on the Pacific coast will take steps to seize the fuel oil supply on the coast in order to prevent the shutdown of the navy yard plants. It was announced today following the receipt of a telegram from Washington.

Captain J. J. Cheatham of the Mare Island navy yard, who has been conducting negotiations with the oil companies, is authority for the announcement that the navy will take the oil by force if necessary.

The navy ships at San Francisco bay, at Vallejo and other ports on the coast have scarcely a two-weeks' supply of fuel. Work on the super-tugs, which are being built at the navy yard, will be suspended unless a supply of fuel oil is forthcoming, according to Captain Cheatham.

SEIZURE DOOMS DESTINY

No announcement has yet arrived from navy officials in Washington to indicate that the bids of two leading oil companies to supply the navy with a small percentage of its requirements will be accepted. Captain Cheatham said an oil seizure will likely take place whether the bids are accepted or not, for if the bids are accepted the navy department is assured by the contracts of bid 50 per cent of its requirements. It is reported that the Union and Associated oil companies are expected to supply the navy's needs.

The only comment Captain Cheatham would make today in regard to the telegram from Washington was that he had been assured he would have no trouble in securing the oil.

He said he had been assured by the companies that there would be no delivery unless the bids, which were telegraphed to Washington Saturday, were accepted.

BIDS MUCH HIGHER THAN NAVY PRICE

The Shell and Standard companies and the General Petroleum company submitted bids for 50 per cent of the amount of oil required by the navy department on the Pacific coast, and at a price far in excess of the navy price. The bids were: Standard company, $2.04 a barrel in lots of more than 10,000 barrels; the Shell, $2.35 a barrel; General Petroleum, $2.25 a barrel.

The price to industrial oil in San Francisco is $2 a barrel, although the Shell is maintaining the $2.35 price.

Navy officials contend that the Lever act, under which the oil companies are required to sell oil at a fixed price, is not effective as war-time legislation, but the oil companies maintain that although peace has not officially been declared, war legislation is in effect.

It is understood that the oil concerns at Martinez, Avon, Richmond and Oleum are the ones that will be seized and operated by the navy if necessary.

Injuries, Robbery, Fire and Death Fate of Vacationists

(By United Press) SALEM, Oregon, July 19.—While wading in the Willamette river here Sunday, Richard Platt, 13, was drowned.

Walter Platt, 15, nearly lost his life trying to rescue his brother. An unidentified man plunged into the stream and saved Walter after he had gone down in his futile attempt.

The family was then robbed and left penniless. Bad luck was still on their trail, for their automobile was next burned. The Platts had to go to the Willamette river to get to the Willamette river.

And now Richard is dead.

Girl Blinds Her Sweetheart and Kills Herself

Love Rejected, Woman Pleads for Kiss, Fires Destruction Bullets.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Julius Jonas, 22,000 a year talking machine salesman and a brother-in-law of Leo Felt, New York music publisher, will recover from the effect of a bullet fired through his head early Sunday morning by Miss Pauline Meglitch, when the latter ended a several years' clandestine love affair by attempting to kill him and then succumbed to her own self-inflicted wounds.

But his recovery will leave him stone blind, physicians who are attending him announced today.

In a number of letters, the Jonas tragedy is similar to the Ruth Randall case. Several years ago Jonas, who is married and the father of several children, met Pauline Meglitch in St. Louis and fell in love with her.

But his recovery will leave him stone blind, physicians who are attending him announced today.

Recently his wife began a suit for separation, but this was dropped later on Jonas could make it plain to her that he was not leaving her.

Early Sunday morning, Mrs. Helen Sanders, Miss Meglitch's sister, heard several shots fired in the back of her home at 1000 W. 12th street.

She discovered the lifeless body of her sister lying across the body of Jonas, who was moaning in pain with his hands clasped in his right temple.

The bullet passed entirely through his head, cutting the optic nerves.

"Like Ruth Randall, Miss Meglitch kept a diary in which she chronicled the details of her secret love affair with Jonas. A farewell letter written by her just before the tragedy was enacted was addressed 'To the Public,' and reads in part as follows:

"I could make it plain to you how this terrible situation was brought about, but I feel I have not the strength mentally or physically. I did not let my family know of my love affair with Jonas, and I am sure that if they did, they would have been as good as dead."

"I knew I had made a mistake. I had given him all my strength and love. I was left a wreck, heart-broken. I am sure that if they did, they would have been as good as dead."

ONE KILLED AND FOURTEEN INJURED. BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, July 19.—One civilian was killed and fourteen others, including seven women, were wounded in an outbreak of fighting at Cork, said a Central News despatch from that city today. A cordon of British troops was thrown around the city halting all traffic, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Cork reported.

Cork spent a night of terror," said a despatch to the Evening News. "The trouble began when news was received that John Bourke, an ex-soldier, had been bayoneted to death by a soldier after failing to heed the challenge. Ex-soldiers attacked one man from a South Staffordshire regiment whom the Sinn Fein volunteers succeeded in rescuing. Later Indian troops fired from the soldiers' barracks."

"During the fighting lorries filled with military patrols and armored cars caused panic among the population by racing through the streets with the soldiers firing in every direction," said another Central News despatch. "At midnight the streets were nearly deserted."

The Cork outbreak is regarded as a sequel to the assassination of the Irish nationalist leader, James Connolly, who was commissioner for the Munster district, played a prominent part in the recent "police revolt" in county Kerry. Sinn Fein leaders seized documents which they declared, showed that Smyth had delivered a fiery address to the constables telling them that the constables were to be proclaimed throughout Ireland and urging them to use harsh methods in dealing with the Irish people.

POLITICAL MURDER SEES THE TIMES. LONDON, July 19.—"This was a political murder whose flagrancy and brutality equals any that has been perpetrated in Ireland," the Times declared today in commenting on the killing of Commissioner Smyth of the Royal Irish Constabulary by a band of armed men in Cork. An inspector was wounded in a hand to hand fight with the raiders.

The Daily Express said: "The people are sick and tired of this sort of thing. These murders pierce all indifference."

The Chronicle blamed the government for not giving police adequate protection in Ireland. "This brutal murder in Ireland," the paper said, "which will reduce even the worst troops of Ireland almost to despair."

HARDING TAKES ANOTHER SWING AT LEAGUE PACT

MARION, Ohio, July 19.—Pressing his fight against the "splendid record" established yesterday between President Wilson and Governor Cox, Senator Harding declared in a statement today that triumph of the Democratic ticket this year would mean a "continuance of the foreign policy which has so grievously disappointed both Europe and America."

Apparently foreseeing the league as a paramount campaign issue as a result of the conference, the Republican candidate adopted an aggressive attitude toward the league policy whenever it showed its head. He took for the text today a statement on the league attributed to Colonel House and just published in this country.

SENATOR'S STATEMENT.

Harding said:

"We are beginning to understand the mistakenly plighted relationship of the United States to Europe just in time to proceed to a referendum intelligently. The one representative of this country, other than the president, who best knew the whole situation at Paris, was Colonel House. He tells us now, in a cable statement from London, that the suggestion of a preliminary peace treaty was made very soon after the armistice and that such a treaty could have been made before Christmas of 1918."

All along this has been the Republican conception of what ought to have been done but this to the first official knowledge that Europe wished such a procedure and was deterred by us in expediting peace."

SIGNIFICANT, HE THINKS.

The authentic revelation is peculiarly interesting at the moment when it is announced that the con-

Here Is Harding Challenge To Cox to Bare Wilson Pact

MARION, O., July 19.—The challenge to Governor Cox to state the "basis of agreement" reached between himself and President Wilson at their White House conference Sunday was issued today by Senator Harding last night. In a statement he said:

"The President and the Democratic nominee for his successor are in conference, and at the conclusion it will be announced that they found themselves in complete accord, that harmony reigns, and unity is established in the Democratic party. The statement will not be missed."

"There is just one way that one can establish accord between himself and the president, and that is by revealing the basis of the agreement."

"Therefore, it will be pertinent to inquire the basis of the agreement."

FOUR QUESTIONS

"First, the country is very anxious to know if an unequalled acceptance of the League of Nations program is agreed upon."

"Second, has Governor Cox pledged himself to ratification of the treaty and league without essential modification?"

"Third, has Article X been accepted? It has been repeatedly declared that Article X is the 'heart of the treaty' and that to cut it out would mean the annihilation of the League of Nations."

"Fourth, has the administration policy of the foreign policy which has so grievously disappointed Europe and America?"

Colonel House's statement, to which Senator Harding referred, was published in a special cable to a Philadelphia paper from London in which the colonel was quoted as saying that a preliminary treaty concerning armistice, reparations and delineation of belligerents "could have been made by Christmas of 1918, and would have been not only the usual but the obvious thing to do."

MEET ON SUNDAY BRINGS CENSURE FOR DEMOCRATS

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Unity of opinion on the League of Nations, particularly and the Democratic platform in general is proclaimed by President Wilson and Governor Cox in statements treating on yesterday's conference at the White House.

President Wilson said he and the party nominee were absolutely at one with the great issue.

Governor Cox in summarizing the results of the conference said it brought out that the president was in full agreement with the efficiency of the Democratic platform and the duty of the party in the face of the threatened bad faith to the world in the name of America.

MONKEY WRENCH THROWN

Party leaders expressed satisfaction over the results of the 30-hour visit of Governor Cox to the capital.

But the Harding and Coolidge Republican league of Washington threw a note of discord into the conference by issuing a statement of regret that Sunday should have been chosen for the meeting.

"The Democrats are making a bad start when the head of the Democratic party meets on Sunday for a political confab in the executive mansion of the capital," said Robert I. Miller, president of the league.

Wide scattering on Sunday will be resented by millions of American citizens who observe the biblical injunction to labor on six days and keep the seventh day holy.

Certainly there was no haste for this White House conference Sunday, as the campaign is just starting.

The conference began at 10:30 o'clock and ended at 11:30. Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician, was present but not a participant.

"This conference lasted an hour," Governor Cox was at the White House two hours and a half.

After leaving the president's office at 11:30 o'clock, Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt went to the executive offices and prepared their statements for the press. After that they chatted a little while with Secretary Tumulty, Admiral Grayson and with Senator-elect Hatfield of Alabama. Senator Glass of Virginia, who was chairman at the San Francisco convention, had by this time reached the White House and Governor Cox and Roosevelt were in conference with him about forty minutes.

Governor Cox and Secretary Tumulty took luncheon with the president. The other guests were Secretary Tumulty, Admiral Grayson and Senator Glass.

LEAVES FOR OHIO

Governor Cox returned to the home of Judge Timothy T. Ansberry, where he had a short conference with Chairman Flood of the Democratic National Congressional committee. Accompanied by Roosevelt, Judge Ansberry, John P. Costello, National committeeman from the District of Columbia, a George White, one of the Cox floor managers at San Francisco, Governor Cox left for Ohio at 4:50 o'clock. A large crowd assembled at the station to see him. It had done at other points during the day.

The Democratic nominee saw newspaper men in Secretary Tumulty's office just before the luncheon.

NO MUGWUMPS IN G. O. P. NOW, BENJAMIN SAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Full of confidence that the Republican presidential ticket will be sent over a winner at the November election, Raymond Benjamin, state Republican chairman, returned yesterday from a meeting of the national executive committee. Benjamin says his confidence is the result of the assurances at Republican headquarters that there are to be no hangers back in the campaign.

Benjamin has returned to open regional headquarters at the Palace Hotel. This office will co-ordinate the work of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Arizona and California. It will serve as regional campaign director. A conference is to be held Tuesday.

MAKES STATEMENT

Regarding his eastern trip and the political outlook, Benjamin said: "There is no 'mugwumpism' in the Republican ranks today if one is to accept the conservative political thought of the country as is now being expressed today. The tendency against rather chaotic times of recent years is becoming more pronounced each week, according to many astute political observers, and this tide will gradually sweep the country after Senator Harding clearly and definitely outlines the Republican campaign next Thursday in his speech of acceptance."

"The reaction to Senator Harding's nomination has been most favorable, for he is being recognized as one American stalwart who can lead the country to sane government with the support of all the elements making up our national life."

"An analysis of the national situa-

Wilson, Cox and Roosevelt Praise White House Parley

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Statements were issued by President Wilson, Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt after the White House yesterday.

President Wilson said:

"The interview was in every respect most satisfactory and gratifying. I found what I indeed already knew and what Governor Cox has let the whole world know in his speeches, that he and I were absolutely at one with regard to the great issue of the League of Nations."

"The interview was in every respect most satisfactory and gratifying. I found what I indeed already knew and what Governor Cox has let the whole world know in his speeches, that he and I were absolutely at one with regard to the great issue of the League of Nations."

Governor Cox said:

"From every viewpoint the meeting was delightful. The President was at his best, recalling any detail inquired about as bearing upon the international situation and enlightening the whole conference with a humorous anecdote now and then in his old-time characteristic way. We are agreed as to the meaning and sufficiency of the Democratic platform and the duty of the party in the face of the threatened bad faith to the world in the name of America. His thought is still of the war and the pledges we gave to those who sacrificed. One easily sees that as the leader of the nation who asked for our sons and our resources upon a very distinct understanding and obligation, he is resolved that the faith shall be kept. To this his thought and life are dedicated. What he promised, I shall, if elected, endeavor with all my strength to give."

Roosevelt said:

"I have been that every American could have been a silent witness to the meeting between these two great men. Their splendid accord and their high purpose are an inspiration. I need only add that my regret in leaving my post under President Wilson is softened by the knowledge that my new commander-in-chief will be his wholly worthy successor."

DRY DELEGATES REACH LINCOLN FOR CONVENTION

LINCOLN, Neb., July 19.—With the opening of the national Prohibition convention but a few days distant delegates are drifting into Lincoln to attend.

Those on the ground expressing dissatisfaction over what they term the "treatment received" at the hands of the two major parties.

Had either the Chicago or San Francisco convention inserted a plank the Prohibitionists probably would not consider entering a ticket, they say. Bone dry advocates declare presidential and vice-presidential nominees will be chosen. A fight may result over an effort to confine the campaign to the election of a dry Congress.

One of the first presidential booms was launched Sunday night when Clinton K. Howard, Rochester, N. Y., himself a possible candidate, announced he would probably present the names of Wm. J. Bryan and Billy Sunday to head the ticket. Their consent must first be obtained, he said.

Sheathing the sword of Damocles

Not many people would now be so foolish as Damocles in envying Dionysius his royal state, the responsibilities of which were so overwhelming that he compared them to a keen edged sword suspended above his head by a thread.

Yet it is not uncommon to see a person jeopardize the most precious of their senses—sight and to allow their eyes to go uncared for because of some comparatively petty consideration as time or expense.

BURTON TO STAY IN COMMAND OF LIPTON'S YACHT

By FRANCIS J. WHITE,

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 18.—No change will be made in the skipper or crew of the cup challenger Shamrock IV.

Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the big green sloop, stated this afternoon that Captain William Burton and the same crew that has handled the challenger in her brushes with Resolute in the international cup races to date, will be aboard her when she skims across the line in tomorrow's triangular race.

Sir Thomas' statement put an end to a myriad of rumors that Captain Burton was to be deposed as skipper. Captain Burton and the same crew that has sailed the Shamrock so far, Sir Thomas told me aboard his steam yacht Victoria, "will remain in charge of her and will be at the helm tomorrow."

News of the Churches

Attacks on the authenticity of the Bible met with a vigorous response yesterday, when Rev. S. Fraser Langford took up the fight again on the teaching of Dr. Jastrow in the School of Religion, now being held in the University of California, in an address before members of the Bible school of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Langford began his answer to Dr. Jastrow and Dr. Bade by reading both the iconoclasts out of the religious field on the grounds that they view the subject as historical and literary and disregard wholly the supernatural or religious standpoint. When Dr. Bade admits that he does not look on the Bible from a spiritualistic point of view, Dr. Langford says:

"What place would a professor of astronomy have in Lick observatory who never allowed the phase of astronomy have in Lick observatory place has a professor of religion in the church who never allows the phase of religion to enter, but merely regards it from the commonplace historical or literary view."

REVELATION PROVEN, CLAIM.

Dr. Langford further characterized the iconoclasts as disciples of the German philosophy who "felt that the only way to become famous was to lift their axe against the big trees."

Dr. Langford continued: "Dr. Bade incidentally takes a fling at the Genesis account of creation on the ground that six days was too short a time in which to make it, but any Hebrew scholar would tell him that the word translated 'day' means a measured duration of time, whatever its length. It is interesting for me to remember in this connection that Dr. Hovison of honored memory in the University of California, after exhaustive research in geology and fossil remains, gives an order of world formation similar in every detail save one to the account in Genesis. My question is, where did the writer of Genesis get that accurate knowledge save through revelation?"

SCIENCE'S AID SEEN.

"Dr. Jastrow held before his classes that 'research brings forth contradictions to the Bible stories.' I hold that research brings forth confirmation, and I question the right of any man to call himself a scholar, who is unwilling to weigh the clear confirmation of archaeological research. 'I am wondering what are the religious views of Professor Jastrow which he so carefully refrains from communicating to his students. As soon as he has destroyed the faith of his students in the historical value of the Scriptures, I find myself asking will he then give to them the fantastic theories of Nietzsche and his doctrines of the superhuman, and that the common people are but dogs, who like you all the better for an occasional kick from the other hand, the professor answers he has no theological or religious views to teach, then I ask him what is he doing in a school of religion?"

CONVICTS AID THEM.

Declaring that of thousands of convicts at San Quentin and other prisons whom he had converted to the Christian faith, that only two had ever returned to a felon's cell, Capt. William I. Day, chaplain of the Oakland city prison and Alameda county jail, at Mills College Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday, said that the human wrecks who have been placed behind the bars are well worth saving.

The captain told an interesting story of how he had helped hundreds of prisoners to obtain employment after they had left jail. He said that the former inmates of the city and county jails had been placed behind the bars are well worth saving.

400 at Mare Island Facing Wage Penalties This Week

VALLEJO, July 19.—Consternation was thrown into the ranks of Mare Island workers today when it became known that 400 of them are to be penalized when the special board of inquiry into their ratings completes its work the end of this week. Last Tuesday twenty-one were penalized.

It was charged that during the war many workers were receiving pay for high ratings while they were performing work that should have been under a low rating.

It particularly was charged that many clerks were drawing the higher ratings of skilled mechanics. Mare Island officers, all through the investigation, have defended this on the ground that it was the only way persons could be obtained during the war, to perform the work. They say it was necessary to get mechanics to perform much of the clerical work because ordinary clerks did not understand it.

Penalties imposed last week included reduction in ratings and reductions in pay for periods ranging as long as six months. Two of the employees penalized last week, J. J. Vierke and Frank H. Lee, resigned. The findings are based on investigations made early in the year by C. E. Ralston, safety engineer and personnel representative of Secretary Daniels, and by C. L. Snyder, secretary of the civil service commission in San Francisco.

The Scullin bill calling for compulsory state investigation of labor disputes will be discussed on both occasions. This piece of legislation will be presented at the next session of the legislature. It calls for the appointment of a commissioner with judicial powers to try all disputes between capital and labor and provides right of appeal to jury trial.

Speakers at the meeting this month will be David Starr Jordan and Appellate Judge E. C. Hart.

BURGLAR LEAVES HIM BALDHEADED, RUM HOUSE LOOT

While its owner was in the mountains on a vacation trip, the home of Frank Lewis, 717 Grand avenue, was entered by burglars who picked a lock and carried off liquor and other valuables. Two cases of whiskey, two cases of kumel and a chest containing much valuable silverware were among the loot.

Pasquale Bruigis, 805 Washington street, reported to the police that while he was absent from his room Sunday, someone stole two coupes several pairs of socks and a pair of shoes. He says the wigs are worth $45 each. He is left bald-headed.

Pickpockets gathered more than $100 and valuable papers from M. Deilar, 2327 Grove street, and A. Soderman, Portland hotel, while they rode on street cars. Deilar remembered being jostled by two men in a crowded car and later missed his wallet containing $50.

Mrs. L. Madden, 571 Jones street, reported to the police this morning that burglars entered her home last night and stole jewelry and clothing valued at several hundred dollars.

Fred Allen, 473 Eighth street, told the police that someone entered his room last night and stole his best suit.

C. F. Salomonson, 270 Twelfth street, missed automobile accessories and other articles from his store this morning. Burglars evidently entered through a window at the rear.

Auto Stage Seeks to Change Routing

The Peerless Stage Association, which operates an auto passenger service between Oakland and San Jose, today asked the Railroad Commission for authority to change the routing between the two cities, claiming that the recent completion of a new roadway has made better time and better service possible. The more direct route, it is said, is via San Lorenzo, Irvington, Centerville, Warm Springs and Millitas. The company's stages are now routed from Oakland to San Jose via San Leandro, Hayward, Decoto, Niles, Centerville, Warm Springs and Millitas. It is proposed to send hourly stages over the new route in addition to maintaining the present half-hourly service over the old route. The service is designed to meet through traffic needs.

S. F. Police Seeking British Army Aviator

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The Department of Justice has asked the local police to take Captain J. P. Bertram, English army officer known to have been here a week, into custody. The young man is also wanted in Los Angeles where he is alleged to have received a check of $250 from a friend, which he afterwards raised to $1250. Ray Barnett, representing Earl Rogers, attorney, is in the city endeavoring to locate him. An $8700 car purchased in Cincinnati is held by the police. Captain Bertram, who is known under the aliases of Brooks, Balfour and Raleigh, was formerly discharged from the Royal British army under the name of J. Allen Brooks as a victim of shell shock. Later he enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps as J. P. Balfour, where he won the post of flight commander.

Leader Urges Farm Growth by Japanese

Writing in the "New World," a Japanese-language newspaper printed in San Francisco, M. Sakamoto, president of the Japanese Association of Tulare County and a member of the "emergency committee" of the Japanese Association of America, urged in yesterday's issue of the paper that Japanese "press forward to rural development and stay away from the cities." He declares Americans are deserting the farms and flocking to the cities, "leaving no one at home." Sakamoto deprecates the attacks on the Japanese associations and predicts more stringent laws governing Japanese. He urges his countrymen to concentrate their efforts in the country, avoiding friction with Americans by living on farms where, he says, Americans make no provision.

Henry Oshoff, chaplain at St. Luke's Hospital and of the Canon Kip Mission in San Francisco. Miss Keeler is one of the debutantes of last year. Guests from the whole bay region attended the festivities attending her coming out at the Marin Country Club. The Keeler family were among the first San Franciscans to recognize the beauty of Ross for residence and to build their home there. Among them were many from the Eastbay and San Francisco.

COLLEGE FOLK WED. AFTERNOON A wedding of particular interest to Contra Costa was solemnized yesterday at noon, when Miss Ruth Huntington became the bride of Edmund Louis Randall. The ceremony was read at the house of the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. L. Anderson, in Pacheco, the same home in which his mother was married. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Kelly of Martinez. Only relatives, numbering about twenty, were present, the couple leaving on an auto trip through the northern part of the state. Randall, who is a graduate of St. Mary's College, is a constructing engineer for the Shell Oil Company in Martinez. He is the son of E. J. Randall, former mayor of Concord and cashier of the First National Bank of Martinez. The bride, a graduate of the University of California and a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, has been the teacher of languages in the Mt. Diablo Union High School. Both young people have many friends in the Eastbay college contingent. The Misses Sylvia and Sybil Conling will be hostess at a tea on Friday at their home across the bay, a number of guests crossing for the affair given by the former Eastbay girls. Mr. and Mrs. George Roeth (Fay Watson) are established in their new home in Berkeley, where the Watson family has made its home since leaving Vacaville. The wedding of the Roeths was of particular interest to the college set, Mrs. Roeth being a Delta Delta Delta at the University of California, taking her degree with one of the recent classes. MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

What Mother Graham Suggested To Madge.

I docilely obeyed my mother-in-law's command and dropped into the chair she indicated. For several minutes there was no sound in the room while she sat with fingers pressed against her forehead, a habit of hers which Dicky irreverently designates as "the mater giving an indication."

"I have it!" she said at last. "The English nobility do something like it when the heir comes of age—dance with the tenants and the servants and all that, and this will simply be an adaptation of that custom. We'll do it!"

"I'm afraid I looked the bewilderment I felt. I knew my mother-in-law's almost childish liking for aristocratic customs, her scrupulous insistence upon all the deference due her; but this harangue was beyond me."

"Don't sit there looking as if I had suddenly become a candidate for a lunatic asylum!" she snapped. "Of course you can't grasp my meaning until I explain it. But it's a very simple proposition. I shall go to Katie, tell her that there will be a dance for Jim and herself at our table, and that after she has served the first courses she and Jim must come to the table for the cutting of the cakes. And we will have her cake upon the table with ours. It is a most ridiculous proposition, three birthday cakes, but at any rate it shows the devotion with which Richard and Second is regarded."

As she leaned back in her chair, the picture of self-satisfaction in her disposal of all difficulties, I had hard work to keep from laughing outright, although I was dismayed indeed at the new tangle which Mother Graham's plan presented.

MADGE'S AMENDMENT.

For I knew how Katie and sturdy, independent Jim would regard this sop thrown at them of admission to the cutting of the cake after the regular dinner had been served to the family and guests. Neither of them objects to the serving of meals; they are hired for certain work, they do it, have their own little language and presented their own independence. But I knew that I could no more allow this proposal—which smacked of old-world serfdom—to be funk to them than I could deprive them of the pleasure of having Junior to themselves for an hour, the boon I had promised Katie.

"I wonder if you would let me offer an amendment to your admirable plan," I ventured with an air of great humility, which was not all assumed. I was prepared to comport myself with great discretion, to walk very meekly until I was out of this particular stretch of woods into which my mother-in-law's latest whim had led me.

"I might have known you would have some objection," she retorted acridly. "But say what have you got to say without hemming and hawing?"

"Why not have Katie and Jim sit down with us from the very first?" I said diffidently. "We can dispense with the formal service, have the dishes served family style at the table."

My mother-in-law held me with a glittering eye that would have caused professional jealousy in the bosom of "Ye Ancient Mariner."

"DANGER AVOIDED."

"Have you taken leave of your senses, Margaret?" she demanded. "What sort of whirling dervish performance do you suppose I might have with that sort of a girl jumping up every minute or two to see to things in the kitchen or to change the dishes?"

"I know it," I admitted, for this was exactly the picture I had meant to present to my mother-in-law's mind, "but it is the only way in which I could consent to have Katie and Jim come to the table. They are both sensitive. Jim especially so since he returned from service, have I'm sure they would consider being brought in simply for dessert and the cutting of the cake as an affront offered them. Besides, they have set their hearts upon having Junior for an hour to themselves."

"Well, I'm sure it is nothing to me," said my mother-in-law, her nose in the air and an expression of the most extreme hauteur upon her face. "I felt that I had been unjust to the girl and wished to rectify it; but upon second thought I do not think I will ever refer to the subject. She gets fully enough pampering from you without any one else taking a hand. Go ahead with your wretched program."

"Please don't take it that way, Mother," I pleaded. "It was so sweet of you to consider Katie, but I'm sure she will be happier with her own little celebration. But I know she would be very much excited and pleased if we asked her to make a duplicate cake and we put it upon the table tomorrow. We can use three varieties of cake with the molded loaves we're going to have for dessert, and then each woman who adores Junior will be represented by a cake at his birthday."

From this Country Estate comes

ALBERS OLIVE MINCE

SANDWICHES AND SALADS

Here, on the Albers estate at Lake Elsinore—one of the show places of Southern California—are grown the ripe, full-meated California olives that go into Olive Mince. It is here that Nature endows these olives with the rich, rare flavor that makes Olive Mince a food-relish of high estate.

Then, in our large, spick-and-span "kitchen" at Riverside, the olives are finely chopped, sauced and seasoned with a wonderful recipe of our own origin. The result is a ready-to-serve sandwich-spread—not too dry, not too moist—that ranks in food value with meat, eggs, cereals.

You have probably tasted many a relish or garnish. But you have never tasted anything like Olive Mince. There has never been anything like it. It is the aristocrat of sandwich-spreads—yet within the reach of all. It is always in good taste—from the most formal occasions indoors to the most impromptu outings.

So—why not usher in this treat today? Olive Mince is packed only in cans that have been sterilized by a temperature of high heat. Your grocer has it—or can easily get it for you.

ALBERS' OLIVE COMPANY
Exclusive Olive Packers
Riverside, California

Founded in 1896 by C. H. ALBERS of St. Louis

A short biographical sketch of

C. H. Albers

—one of the pioneers of Southern California. He spent the early part of his life in Keokuk, Iowa, served in the Union Army during the Civil War, and afterward settled in St. Louis. There he was prominent in civic and commercial circles, holding membership on the floor of the St. Louis Merchants Exchange. Coming to California in 1895, Mr. Albers bought the Elsinore acreage, cleared it, planted the first trees and gradually added to his holdings until the property now consists of more than 400 acres. In 1913, at the height of a long and useful career, Mr. Albers died. His business and estate have since been managed by members of his immediate family.

MILITARIST IN CONTROL.

The Japanese parliament last week approved the new army establishment plan which the war ministry submitted and thus authorized the government to launch a military program hitherto unheard of in Japan. Besides providing for the maintenance of the present large military force in Siberia, Korea and at home for another twelve months, the army bill carried an appropriation of $225,000,000 for the "national defense completion plan." This calls for the creation of several new divisions of rifles, and large increases in the artillery, aircraft, supply, engineering and the other branches.

Japan also is making large additions to her naval armament. The whole naval construction program to be completed by 1927, calls for an expenditure of over $450,000,000. Of this sum $375,000,000 is to be applied to the construction of four battleships, four battle cruisers, twelve cruisers, thirty-seven destroyers and other craft, including a large number of submarines.

The acceptance of these projects by the parliament shows the absence of any formidable opposition to the militarist party in Japan.

During the last two weeks several efforts were made to force an amendment to the government's program of great increases in armament. Mr. Yukio Ozaka, who had just returned to Tokyo from a visit to the United States and Europe, gave notice in a sensational speech that henceforth he would abandon all parties and wage an independent fight to defeat militarism. He informed his colleagues that the whole world dislikes Japan and that only by the overthrow of militarism could the good repute of Japan before the world be restored to its former luster.

After speeches of unprecedented warmth and daring by others, the opposition introduced a motion declaring a lack of confidence in the government, but their effort was defeated two to one. After that the government forces, in perfect control of the militarist majority, forced through the appropriations for an expanded army and increases in the navy.

Previously Viscount Keneko had stated to an American newspaper correspondent that the proposal to enact new legislation for the regulation of alien ownership of land in California was exceedingly distasteful to him, that it promises to arouse an animosity among the Japanese people which time will not efface, and that he faced with composure the prospect of a break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Japan.

These are the passing events of the day. They may be pregnant with difficulties for the future, and again they may not. In any case it is the duty of the United States government and people to observe and be advised by them.

LESS DIAMONDS.

Mr. W. L. Prosser, American trade commissioner at Brussels, Belgium, reports a serious depression in a great industry of Antwerp. This industry, which is of the greatest importance to the foreign trade of Antwerp, normally occupies about 13,000 men. Of this number over 5,500 are now out of employment and the ranks of the unemployed are expected to be largely augmented in the very near future. The industry is now working at only about fifty percent of its normal capacity and export trade of Antwerp has fallen in proportion.

This sadly depressed foreign industry is the diamond-cutting business of Belgium. It has not been in so low a state of prosperity since the financial crisis in the United States of 1907. The chief cause of the present depression also is said to the almost complete suspension of orders for diamonds from the United States. American buyers are usually relied upon to take more than half the entire output of Belgian cut diamonds. But the extraordinary demand for diamonds in the United States which followed the signing of the armistice has been followed by a reaction.

Without suppressing any impulse to sympathize with trade depression in Antwerp which puts five or six thousand workers out of employment there may be no disinclination to rejoice that the people of the United States have cut down on purchases of diamonds. This means that they have come to a point where they are willing, to some extent to forego the indulgence of the most useless of luxuries. And if they are denying themselves new diamonds they may be in a humor to go without other luxuries for a while.

This is good for this country, for the energy expended in producing luxuries is badly needed in the production of necessities.

SPORTS AND COMEDY.

Public interest in sports, in baseball, the Anglo-American yacht races, tryouts for the international Olympiad, golf and tennis tournaments and swimming contests in the United States; horse racing, tennis and golfing meets of an international character in England and France, is a good sign. It indicates that in one aspect—spiritually—humanity is getting away from the dolorous echoes of the war tragedy. There is a spiritual and moral reconstruction in progress that fortunately does not have to wait on government legislation.

This is to be observed in other directions than the popular attention being given sports and athletic contests. In Paris there was recently a try-out or elimination contest for the Conservatory prizes for new dramatic productions. Tragedies were required and there was only a handful of competitors. The judges of the competition attributed this dearth of offerings to the fact that French talent enlisted in the war and turned its attention to entertaining the poilus with comedy. When they returned to the stage they found that the general public also wanted amusement. Some bare gestures did not swell the box office receipts.

In the list of new theatrical productions which are being prepared in New York for the coming stage season, comedy occupies a leading part, with tragedy almost utterly neglected. In literature, the publishers are showing the same discrimination in favor of the lighter romances and comedies. Those in the business of entertaining the public with the main eye on the box office have sensed the fact that the public is in a mood to laugh for a while, until it makes up for the mirthless days of the recent past.

If this disposition is exploited and increased there should be no immediate regret. It is the way to get back to normality. The more people who laugh and sing, the less people afflicted with the hallucination that the upturning of the world is a task specially assigned to them.

NOT SERIOUS.

Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, in a spirit of quick generosity and neighborly solicitude, sent to Los Angeles an offer of aid, should she require it, in repairing the damage of the earthquake shock in that city last Friday.

But fortunately Los Angeles does not require any aid that outsiders can give her. There was no damage to property to speak of and the few minor injuries to persons who did not think quickly enough, in most instances, to save themselves did not tax local facilities in the least.

What Los Angeles needed most on Friday was a nerve restorative. The tremors started shortly after ten o'clock in the morning and recurred at about half-past one in the afternoon and six in the evening. A series of earthquakes, however slight they may be, is not conducive to self-possession. When the afternoon vibrations were felt the people were ready to flee at a whisper, and workers in the downtown district left their places and rushed into the streets.

This obstructed traffic and added to the excitement. Thus the earthquakes were made to appear for the moment more serious than they were. The people have already recovered their calm and are going about their business as usual.

It has been said more than once that the United States could furnish a large and more variegated collection of cranks, misfits and misguided simpletons than any other country on the face of the earth. The third party convulsions at Chicago of men and women who responded to the call of a few evil minded plotters is the latest proof of this fact.

Remember that one can never be too busy to stop and see whether he is doing a thing the wrong way.

BIG CROPS.

The news from the corn and wheat belts that an unexpectedly large crop of both cereals will be harvested and that the labor situation with respect to it is being satisfactorily solved will be gratefully received by the people. Official predictions a month ago were inclined to forecast results which aroused fears concerning the sufficiency of the country's food supply. Those fears now, however, are happily dispelled, and there is no cause for gloom. The harvest will not be the "bumper crop" of some years, but it will exceed the average yield. The granaries of the nation will be well filled and the agriculturist will continue to receive good pay for his hard and long-sustained efforts in the face of conditions that some weeks ago proved most discouraging.

The government report issued Thursday shows an improvement in conditions that should produce 25,000,000 more bushels of wheat, 7,000,000 more bushels of corn, 2,000,000 more bushels of barley and 2,000,000 more bushels of rye, than was predicted a month ago. Counting the holdover from last year the country is promised a total of $84,500,000 bushels of wheat, which would be ample for domestic consumption and leave a surplus for export. The corn crop is reported to be not so good as a year ago, but there has been an increase of 671,000 acres planted. In tobacco and rice the year's yield will exceed all past records. In all of the cereals the prospective crop is estimated to be larger than the average production for the five years from 1915 to 1919, inclusive.

So, after all there is reason to be of good cheer. The farmer will make good, despite the unfavorable conditions that confronted him earlier in the season. If now, labor in other fields will do as well give an honest day's work for a full day's pay and increase production, stability in business will return and an era of steady and ever increasing prosperity should be the nation's portion.—Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

Somewhat with a keen style of putting things says that the fact that Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and other great departed whose names are taken in vain by small bore politicians do not return and chuck these persons over their several heads with a tambourine is almost—as Anatole France remarked in an essay on Plautus—is almost an argument against the immortality of the soul.

The Stockton Record makes an observation: "No use talking, we shall not be able to get down to regular politics until the papers have finished printing all that interesting personal dope about the candidates, beginning with the important fact that they were born and carrying them through teaching, measles, puppy love, school, early friendships and the like. There have got to be just so many pictures of the old homestead."

According to the Richmond News-Examiner, looking at it, labor is trying to climb the greased pole of high cost of living; capital is trying to climb the greased pole of high cost of production, and the common people in between are chasing the necessities greased pig. And nobody seems to be drawing down any prizes.

The Stockton Independent notes how the national administration differences between buying and selling. "It is being remarked quite extensively throughout the country that the Wilson shipping board never seems to buy anything at less than $200 a ton nor to sell anything for more than $70 a ton, including a ship as fine as the Leviathan."

So far Irvin Cobb and Ring Lardner have evinced no imitation over the Democratic convention's sense of humor in according them a half-vote apiece for the nomination, but possibly they have not come across the Stockton Independent's editorial linking them up with Jim Ham Lewis.

The Richmond News foresees a possible amendment to electioneering ethics. "Campaign methods have to undergo some change. For instance, candidates may continue to kiss the babies with good results, but it must not be forgotten that ladies who have no babies are very apt to own puppies."

The Lakeport Bee promulgates the idea that it is distressing to think that our rich men have to go to Europe to get a "drink," and equally distressing to think that many Europeans have to come here to get something to eat."

Intimate hunch from the Red Bluffs. The pine-clothed, tomb-dotted hills which form the background of the strange little cities of Naha and Shuri have an unfamiliar look and the pretty tiled roofs of the diminutive houses, just visible over the surrounding gray stone walls, give fascinating hints of what may be found beyond their lacquered gateways. On their entire 900 square miles of land only one white man, an American missionary, is resident.

"With our money changed we began to look about to spend it, for Loo Choo is the home of the red lacquer ware famous throughout the world. Much of it is exported, and the finest of the boxes, bowls, trays, tables, etc., which are in daily use in Japan and China and sold to tourists throughout the Orient, come from the little city of Naha, or Shuri, its neighbor across the hills. The lacquer ware, when first made, is a dull brown, but really first-class pieces improve with age and soon change to a beautiful vermillion, becoming brighter and clearer the longer they are used."

Historic parallel seen by the Red Bluffs News: "Like the '49ers the Forty-eighters are rushing madly on, not knowing particularly what is ahead of them."

Joke from the San Jose Mercury-Herald: "If Cainson had been on the job in Noah's time none of the males would have gotten into the ark."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The wage scale for male help in canneries, as fixed by the Industrial Welfare Commission for the period from June 1, 1920, to January 1, 1921, provides a minimum wage of 57 1/2 cents an hour for adult unskilled workers. According to the report of the Industrial Welfare Commission, employers and employees have agreed to abide by the wage scale.—Suisun Republican.

Employees of the Great Western Power Company have located a canal northeast of Lake Chabot where they will remain for several weeks while installing a new power line. The line is to be built from the lake to a point near Morrow Cove, facing on Carquinez Straits, where a huge steel tower is being erected to hold the cables that will span the waterway. It is estimated the complete power line will carry $1,500,000 and that it will carry 160,000 volts.—Vallejo News.

Modesto is bound to knock some of the big headlines higher than Gildred's kite. The city has had three cases of broken neck treated in a hospital here this year, two of the fractured necks have mended and their owners are attending to business as usual while the third, his physician says, will recover.—Stockton Record.

FINIS OF POLAND'S DREAM OF MILITARY EXPANSION AND CONQUEST

WOMEN THE FINANCIERS

Along the busy highway of ocean travel, land links between Japan and Formosa, not far from China's coastwise routes, yet visited by only two or three white persons a year—such as the Loo Choo (Luchu or Ryukyu) Islands.

"Loo Choo is a land full of the indescribable charm and mystery of the Orient, but replete with the patos of a vanishing race," writes Roy Chapman Andrews to the National Geographic Society.

"But, although it has been forty years since there sounded the death knell of this little hidden kingdom, Loo Choo is not yet Japan. The traveler realizes this even before he lands. The pine-clothed, tomb-dotted hills which form the background of the strange little cities of Naha and Shuri have an unfamiliar look and the pretty tiled roofs of the diminutive houses, just visible over the surrounding gray stone walls, give fascinating hints of what may be found beyond their lacquered gateways. "The straight backs and erect carriage of the Loo Choo women are due to the custom of carrying everything upon their heads. No matter what the object, be it large or small, it is perched upon their thick, black hair, and off they walk in the most nonchalant manner, apparently paying not the slightest attention to keeping the object in place."

"The most striking thing about Naha and Shuri are the high stone walls which surround the houses. These walls are generally covered by a small banyan tree, called the goja maru, growing like a great vine and sending out numberless roots which sometimes reach a hundred feet from the original stem."

"These also serve as a hiding place for a snake, a kind of adze, six or seven feet long, which is the curse of the island. Their bite is generally fatal in a few hours, and many people are killed by them each year."

"When we came to buy lacquer we were greatly surprised to find that bargaining had no place in Loo Choo. Without exception, the first price asked for an article was the one for which it was sold. Never in the Orient had we met with a similar condition."

"It was interesting to find, also, that the women of Loo Choo conduct all business and have charge of everything pertaining to money—spending it. The market, where in the morning trading for vegetables and fruit is carried on, resembles a suffrage meeting place, for among the crowded mass of humanity not a man is to be seen."

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Just When You Should See a Doctor to "Down" a Germ

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSCHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

There are hundreds of different germs or types of such germs, but happily only seventy to eighty kinds which manage to thrive on human flesh. These are the disease or infective types of bacteria, all too well represented by the streptococcus, pneumococcus, meningococcus, tubercle bacilli, typhoid bacilli, diphtheria bacilli, lockjaw bacilli and others.

A coccus differs from a bacillus only in shape. It is round as a biscuit, smaller than a dot, and may occur in pairs, chains or in groups.

In our ordinary, everyday baths, washes and scrupulous cleanliness the cocci, especially the streptococcus, still cling to your skin, nose, throat, mouth and eyes more closely than a brother.

If you are well, good! You may be then only a carrier of the bacteria, because the most vigorous disinfection and cleanliness are needed to rid the cleanest of skins of germs.

If your fabric is not always on guard, if your head, neck, the ever-present cocci and bacilli may pass the guards and begin some sort of sickness. Septic sore throat, septicæmia or blood poison, pus, matter and infections in wounds, certain skin eruptions such as impetigo contagiosa, St. Vitus dance, endocarditis or heart infection, tonsillitis and "hemolytic" pneumonia are produced by the presence of the streptococcus. This is perhaps one of the most dreaded disease-producers. Accidents and accidents, meningitis and other types of inflammation and "blood poison" are traceable to the ever-on-the-job streptococcus.

Although there are several different fathers, brothers, uncles, aunts or strains of the clan streptococcus in the pneumonia respiratory and wound infections, the blood-thirsty streptococcus "hemolyticus" is most often concerned. Mastoiditis, sinus disease of the nose, forehead and cheeks, the hemorrhages of tuberculosis, pneumonia, bronchitis and typhoid are frequently to be laid at the door of the hemolytic—which means blood-dissolving streptococcus.

Plainly, to be rid of these venomous invaders of scratched, torn, injured and weakened skin and flesh, disinfectants like boracic acid powder, tincture of iodine and antiseptics of one sort or another ought to be employed.

Therefore, whenever there is any lowered resistance of a tissue, any damage to its armor and solidity, whether it is inside in the lungs and oesophagus, the kidney, bladder, skin or blood, do not feel too boastful or too sure of your own strength. Look for a means to continue in health and strength, to prevent sores, infections or pneumonia, and to ward off any colonization of your lungs or flesh and blood by the vicious streptococcus.

NULLIFIERS NULLIFIED.

The Supreme Court's unanimous decision upholding the prohibition amendment and the Volstead Act enforcing it, has dumfounded the booze Bolsheviks in New Jersey and New York. An amendment to the Constitution regularly adopted, becomes as much a part of the Constitution as any other part. By what authority could the Supreme Court hold the 18th Amendment invalid? The would-be nullifiers of the law in New Jersey have suddenly discovered it is they who are unconstitutional, not the prohibition law.—Capper's Weekly.

PLEASANTON IS ANNEXED WITH LIVERMORE HIGH

Despite the protest of residents of the Pleasanton school district, the Board of Supervisors today granted the petition of the Livermore High school district to annex the Pleasanton district.

Herbert Lee, principal of the Livermore High school, testified that last year of the ninety-one students in average attendance there was an average of nineteen from Pleasanton, though actually twenty-four were enrolled. David Martin, deputy county superintendent of schools, testified that it costs Livermore $250 a year to maintain the school, and that it receives only $80 a pupil from Pleasanton's taxes.

R. M. Light, attorney representing Pleasanton, said his clients were perfectly willing to pay the difference in this expense, but objected to annexation, as they were afraid they would be deprived of $10 a day now provided for transportation of the pupils to and from school. Theodore Wittchen, deputy district attorney, said Livermore is to increase its special tax from 13 cents, last year's figure, to 40 cents for the coming year, and that Pleasanton would have to pay $3000 this year as against $5000 last year. Thus they would save money to remain out of the district and pay the expense of educating their children.

PROTEST ALLOWED
Chairman John P. Mullins announced that if Pleasanton filed a protest within sixty days containing the names of a majority of voters the annexation would be automatically annulled.

The request of the Oakland Board of Education to have the supervisors sell another $1,000,000 worth of the Oakland school bonds was referred to District Attorney Ezra Decoto for the preparation of a resolution to that effect.

C. F. Adams, attorney, sent a letter protesting against the location of a branch emergency hospital for Berkeley at 2119 McKinley avenue, on property owned by that city. He said that his mother, who is over 70 and a nervous wreck, resides at 2117 McKinley and could not endure the sights and sounds from such an institution. The letter was filed. No one appeared before the board on behalf of Berkeley and the matter has not yet officially been brought to the supervisors' attention.

VISITORS LAUD OAKLAND
Chairman Mullins received a letter from the Women's Democratic club of Alameda county, thanking him and the other supervisors for their assistance in making the Democratic convention luncheon at Hotel Oakland a success. The letter stated that the visitors were profuse in their praise of Oakland.

Attorney R. M. Fitzgerald, president of the Claremont Country club, appeared before the board, sitting as a board of equalization, protesting against a raise of $27,150 in the assessed valuation of the club's property this year over last year, which was $174,950. Fitzgerald said the property was assessed higher than surrounding real estate and that even last year's assessment was higher in some particulars than the actual value of the property. The request was granted, the assessment being left as it was.

Chairman Mullins announced that only four protests had been filed against the assessments this year of County Assessor I. H. Clay.

Gun Cows 5 Battlers Fighting Policeman

When James McCormack, patrolman attempted to arrest Edgar Moore at the Majestic dance hall last night for creating a disturbance, five men attacked the policeman, who fought himself clear and cowed the crowd with his revolver. The five were taken to jail. It is believed by the police that the men are an organized band from North Beach, San Francisco. They are being held for investigation.

Inquiry Fails to Disclose Secret of Keane Death

RICHMOND, July 19.—Unless there are unexpected developments before night, the mystery surrounding the inquiry on the death of Dennis J. Keane, Berkeley capitalist, whose body was found floating in the bay near here last Thursday night, will be unable to determine whether death was due to accident or suicide. The inquest will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the offices of Coroner Charles F. Deane, 705 Macdonald avenue, Richmond.

Nothing that would throw light on the manner in which Keane was drowned had been revealed to the coroner's office here today. Relations of Keane believe death was accidental, contending that Keane probably fell from a ferry boat during a fainting spell, to which he is said to have been subject. The suicide theory is based on the fact that Keane had been in poor health and may have become despondent. There has been nothing to indicate death by foul play.

MORMON HEADS ORDERED TRIED AS PROFITEERS

SALT LAKE CITY, July 19.—The Van Pelt Sugar Company, as represented by its directors, was bound over for trial on a charge of profiteering in the sugar today by United States Commissioner Van Fleet. The president of the company is Heber J. Grant, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The presiding bishop, Charles W. Nibley, is the principal stockholder of the company. It was charged that the company sold for more than 23 cents a pound sugar whose production cost to the company was less than 9 1/2 cents.

UNCLE SAM PUTS 35 ON TRAIN FOR LAND OF SOVIET

SEATTLE, July 19.—Thirty-five Russians, members of the Union of Russian Workers, are on the Southern Pacific train today on the first leg of their enforced journey to their native land. "Red" activities in the northwest brought the order for deportation.

Guarded by immigration officials and a squad of police, the deportees were rushed from the United States detention station to the railroad depot in covered trucks and police automobiles. Outside the rails a crowd of Russian friends waived farewells. The party was to arrive in Portland this morning.

Woman Is Accused in Cross Complaint

Denying the charges of Mrs. Genevieve Richards that he called her names and associated with a woman he had known before his marriage, Carl Richards today filed an answer and cross-complaint in his wife's divorce suit. He charged Mrs. Richards with visiting cafes and Chinese restaurants with other men. Richards asks to be given custody of the child, a six-year-old, and also the household goods at 2068 Thirty-fifth avenue.

ADMIT REPORTERS TO ANGEL ISLAND, SIEGEL DEMANDS

A telegram demanding that the Angel Island immigration station here be thrown open to representatives of the press "in order that they may investigate thoroughly and suggest the betterment of conditions there," was sent to the secretary of labor by Congressman Isaac Siegel of New York, a member of the committee on immigration and naturalization, here today. Congressman Siegel held the conditions at the island to be "deplorable."

The telegram followed the visit to the island of a sub-committee of the committee on immigration and naturalization in the course of an investigation of the Japanese situation on the Pacific coast. Siegel and other members of the committee condemned the station conditions as "awful" and "shocking."

Robbery Suspects Partly Identified

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Believed to have been implicated in several robberies which occurred in San Francisco Saturday night and Sunday morning, Charles Schaub, 27, a teamster residing at 1281 Geary street, and Arvid Eklund, 25, a machinist, residing at 1721 O'Farrell street, were arrested today by the police and are being held for investigation. The men were arrested at Green and Lombard streets, after they had fled from an automobile when they were accosted by detectives.

A partial identification of the men was made by Frank Mardusky, 332 Ellis street, as the men who held him up at 850 Ellis street, early Sunday morning.

Wife Had Another Husband; He's Free

Herbert L. Coney has been granted an annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Rose Coney by Judge Trabucco, on the ground that she had a husband living when she married Coney in Alameda, January 1, 1918. His wife said that on April 8, 1917, his wife married Archie Barville at Santa Rosa and never had been divorced. He did not learn of this marriage until June 3 last, he said, although he and Mrs. Coney separated in May.

Reopen McDonough Case, League Asks

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Governor William D. Stephens and Attorney General U. S. Webb have been asked to re-open the case of Peter McDonough in a protest against the attorney general's decision not to prosecute offered by the State Enforcement League through its president, Edwin E. Grant. Objection was made to the action of Webb in taking personal charge of the case, superseding District Attorney Brady in the prosecution.

The murder trial of Mrs. Emma Freitas, who killed her husband, Tony Freitas on April 10 because of jealousy, is charged today, was continued until tomorrow morning because a full panel was not at liberty from which to draw the jury. The trial will be held before Judge James O. Quinn. Mrs. Freitas is represented by Attorney Nathan Coughlin. Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay and Ralph Hoyte will prosecute.

Zionist Congress Fixes Ownership Of Law by State

LONDON, July 19.—The Zionist conference today adopted the recommendation of the committee of forty on the Palestine property ownership question, providing that all the land and property in Palestine be declared the property of the Jewish people, and that the control of this property be gradually assumed by the Palestine state.

The recommendation made in the majority report submitted this morning was approved amidst a great uproar raised by Zionists who favored the minority report. The minority recommendation was that the land and property be declared immediately the property of the Jewish state and that private ownership and speculation be forbidden.

85 ADULTS, 35 BOYS LEAVE FOR CITY CAMP

Keen expectation of their two weeks' vacation marked the departure this morning of the party of 150 who left the City Hall at 7 o'clock en route to Oakland's Municipal Summer Camp on the Tuolumne river. Eighty-five adults and 35 boys filled the motor trucks, the caravan being supplemented by many who drove their own machines. The children will be taken through to the camping grounds tonight. The adults will make up a mile and a half beyond Chinese Camp, reaching the recreation spot some time tomorrow morning. The halt will be made that the excursionists may enjoy the beautiful scenery which has been made historical through the Bret Harte stories and poems.

The camp management has arranged to serve a hearty breakfast tomorrow morning. The sandwiches which the party is carrying will be supplemented by hot drinks and warm dishes at tonight's supper.

The 150 girls who have been spending the past two weeks in the recreation camp are scheduled to return on Wednesday. The mothers which left today bringing them homeward.

ALAMEDA, July 19.—Mrs. Carrie Eugenie DuFour, mother of C. J. DuFour, superintendent of Alameda schools, died this morning at the home of her son, 1310 Bay street, following a long illness.

She was 64, and a native of Oregon Falls, Wis., but had resided in this city at the home of Superintendent DuFour for eight years. She was the widow of the late John W. DuFour and is survived by three sisters, Mrs. F. W. Skinner, Mrs. J. L. Eganister and Mrs. E. P. Barber, and two brothers, Emory and Carlton H. Lewis.

Woman Fears Crash; Is Injured in Jump

ALAMEDA, July 19.—The fear of an accident, which led to another accident, threatened to result seriously yesterday when Mrs. M. A. Lowenthal, 618 Mission street, San Francisco, threw herself from the car in which she and her husband were driving, when she thought it was to be struck by an approaching electric train at Central avenue and Page street, this city.

Mrs. Lowenthal, seeing the train coming, and believing the machine would be hit, jumped to the street and was severely bruised. She was treated by Dr. Harold Miller, and later removed to her home.

NAVY LIEUTENANT IS DETAINED IN ALCOHOL PROBE

VALLEJO, July 19.—Lieutenant J. F. Colvin, assistant superintendent of shops at Mare Island, was placed in detention aboard the receiving ship Intrepid today, pending an investigation of his connection with the theft of 200 gallons of alcohol from the station, for which two men are now under arrest.

Colvin returned Saturday night from a camping trip at Crater Lake, in Oregon, following a summons from Commandant E. L. Beach to appear immediately. The officials at Mare Island refused to say that Colvin was actually under arrest, or to discuss the situation.

Colvin's connection with the case centers about a pass signed by him and which is known to have been used to take the liquor from the navy yard. Colvin is said by friends in the city to have made an explanation, in which he claims the pass was regularly issued but misused. His story is that it was given to permit the removal of some barrels from the yard and that the marine on duty at the time, the causeway failed to take it up at the time the barrels were taken away. It was subsequently used, he says, to reconvert the automobile which is now known to have been transported over the causeway in three tanks.

A. P. Fournier and L. E. Davis, head pointers, who were charged with the thefts, are awaiting trial on the charges in the Federal Court in San Francisco. The truck driver, known here only by his nick-name of "Whitey," is said by the police to have fled the same night.

A San Francisco druggist is also under arrest. The alcohol is known to have been shipped to San Francisco and there sold.

Salvation Army Rebuilding Home

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—With the approval of its state advisory board, the Salvation Army has entered into a contract for the rebuilding of its main structure at the Lytton Home for Boys and Girls, destroyed several months ago by fire. Construction has started and when completed and equipped the building will represent an investment of approximately $100,000.

Derived along the lines of modified Spanish architecture the new building will be a distinct addition to the Lytton Home. It will be of reinforced concrete and is being erected on the site of the last spring rendered the 250 children at Lytton homeless.

The man had just left a grocery store yesterday morning and walked into the train.

Millionaires Saved by N-C 4 Officer

CHICAGO, July 19.—Laurence Wilder, multi-millionaire, his wife, a daughter of James A. Patten, Evanston millionaire, and Miller Brainard, vice-president of the Central Trust Company here, were rescued with death last yesterday, when their canoe capsized in Lake Michigan. Lieutenant James Brees, U. S. N., who designed and engineered the N-C-4 on the recent trans-Alaska trip, in a small rowboat rescued the three, after they had clung to the overturned canoe nearly twenty minutes.

Town Boasts of Quake Record Temblors Come Every Few Days

LINCOLN, July 19.—Placer county people are pointing with pride to the record of this section as an earthquake center. They announce that other earthquake points in California have nothing on them.

On the Lincoln canner property there are earthquakes every few days, and have been for the last two years or more, according to Superintendent H. C. Gordon and several of his assistants.

Gordon says he thinks there's gas hidden in the earth under the cannery. Other people are thinking, too, but saying nothing.

Gordon says the quakes last from one to four minutes, rock buildings, rattle windows, and are visible with the naked eye.

Gordon says also that any person who is around the cannery at the right time can feel the earthquake, and what the rest of Placer county is wondering about now is: "What is the right time?"

Recently gas was struck while digging a well near here which, says Gordon, plainly points to the cause of the disturbance. He is firm in his belief concerning the earthquakes.

Street Cars in Collision; Four Passengers Injured

BERKELEY, July 19.—Scores of street car passengers narrowly escaped death and several received minor injuries in a head-on crash of two Euclid avenue cars yesterday afternoon at Arlington avenue, near Escondido avenue. Just 400 yards outside the Berkeley city line in the Berkeley Heights district.

Those who were slightly hurt are: Mrs. Donnie Lingenfelder, 2715 Channing way; E. E. Hughes, 53 Stevenson street, San Francisco; J. J. Scherer, 3753 Shafter avenue, Oakland; Marjorie Shannon, More Hotel, Berkeley, and R. A. Morris, 747 Mission street, San Francisco. All these received bruises and were cut by flying glass from broken windows.

The carline is doubled-tracked to the Berkeley city line. It is built on the side of a hill and the outgoing track is high above the incoming track and the two are separated by a stone bulkhead. It is the rule for outgoing cars to wait for the incoming car to clear the track.

In yesterday's accident, the outgoing car was driven onto the single track and crashed into the incoming car at a curve just outside the Berkeley city line. Motorman M. E. Loughan of the outgoing car said he thought he saw the incoming car pass him on the track beneath.

Loughan saw the approaching car in time to set his brakes so that his car was at a standstill when the two crashed. The other motorman had his brakes set but was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision.

When the cars crashed passengers were thrown from their seats to the floor amid a spray of broken glass from the windows. Patrolman W. J. Wilson of the Berkeley police department took Mrs. Lingenfelder to the Roosevelt hospital, where her cuts were dressed. The others went to their homes without medical attention. Both cars were badly damaged.

SKIPPER SENDS U. S. FLAG ALOFT; DEFIES BRITISH

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—With a log book that reads like fiction, Captain Gus Stoltenberg arrived in port last night aboard the trim four-top mast schooner Carrier Dove. He had sailed the craft out of Levuka, Fiji Islands, after having been wrecked on the coral reefs of the islands and had rescued the boat under seemingly impossible circumstances.

After getting all rigged up again he started to sail from Levuka but was warned by the British authorities that he had not submitted to the official survey of the vessel and that he could not have a pilot.

"You attempt to leave and you will send a gunboat after you," was the threat.

The captain answered by hoisting the Stars and Stripes and putting out to sea. He was not molested.

S. P. Electric Hits, Injures Engineer

Albert T. Channon, 30, a mechanical engineer, residing at 1135 East Seventeenth street, was struck by a Southern Pacific electric train at Thirtieth and Avenue this morning but fortunately escaped from more serious injuries than a bruised back and cuts on the head and right arm. He was treated at the emergency hospital. Channon was standing too near the track while waiting for the train and the side of the car struck him.

Gaming Raids Start; 2 Taken in Cigar Shops

Clarence F. McFall and Thomas Morris, arrested at a cigar store at 925 Broadway by L. Kersch and D. Dantuna, patrolmen, charged with gambling, were taken to the Central police station and released on $300 bail each. The police say this arrest is but the first of a campaign to enforce the anti-gambling ordinance.

WOMAN MENACED BY NEW CHARGE AS JAIL YAWNS

Miss Florence Bliss, who has been in the county jail since November 19, 1919, when she was convicted by a jury of obtaining $500 from W. B. Lansdale, a butcher, by false pretenses, is due to be released today or tomorrow, unless charged with the same offense again in a new information. District Attorney Ezra Decoto today said this may be done.

The conviction of Miss Bliss was taken to the Appellate court by Attorney Gilbert Jones and was reversed on the ground that the information was faulty in that it did not charge fraud. Jones then sought the release of Miss Bliss on a writ of habeas corpus, but it was denied by Judge A. P. St. Sur on notice by the district attorney's office that the case would be taken to the Supreme court. The Supreme court today denied a rehearing of the case, and Jones is awaiting for the remittitur to obtain the release of his client.

In the trial Lansdale charged that Miss Bliss succeeded in getting him to give her $900 on her representations that she would make him superintendent of a mine in Nevada, and it developed that she did not have the authority to give him the position. Miss Bliss offered proof at the trial that she owned stock in the mine.

MEAT DEALERS
RECRUITING MEN
TO WORK KNIVES

Sixty butcher shops have signed the new union agreement to pay their workers $2.25 a day or $50 a week and 150 of the 300 butchers and cutters have returned to work, according to an announcement made today by J. W. Corbett, business representative of Butchers' Local No. 1.

"Not one of our 175 members has surrendered to the union demands, and the few outside shops that have signed up we consider 'outlaws,'" was the assertion of J. B. Muir, secretary of the Master Butchers' Association.

A meeting of the strikers was held, the afternoon at the Central Labor Temple, while the Retail Meat Dealers' Association will convene for another conference again tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Odd Fellows Hall.

"Our strike has been authorized by the Amalgamated Association of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, the International and an international organizer will arrive here this week to help us," declared Corbett. "Representatives of the San Francisco union also have pledged their support. The statement given out by the employers to the effect that the strike is unauthorized is untrue."

With the aid of the State organization of California Retail Meat Dealers, the Oakland meat markets are rapidly recruiting butchers and meat cutters to take the place of the 300 members of the Butchers' Union who are out on a strike, according to Muir.

At the same time the big meat markets of this city announced that the loss from spoiled meat will be negligible, since all the supply on hand was purchased by the public who waited patiently to be served by the few men still on the job.

VALLEJO, July 19.—Mr. and Mrs. James Roney will celebrate their golden wedding July 21. The children are Mrs. J. H. Cooper, Mrs. J. E. Paulsen, W. S. Roney and G. A. Roney. W. A. Roney, a son, died some time ago.

Muir declared that in offering the strikers $40 a week that the retail dealers had reached their highest figure and that they would not compromise.

"Meat dealers all over California are coming to our assistance," he said. "The State association is helping us and I understand that the strikers are authorized by the Butchers' International and is not sanctioned by the State Federation of Labor."

DEALER MAKES STATEMENT.
A Shapio, president of the California Retail Meat Dealers' association said that there was no danger that the union butchers in San Francisco will join the Oakland butchers in their strike.

"The Oakland strike is unauthorized," said Shapio, "and the San Francisco men will not have anything to do with it. The agreement does not expire with the San Francisco butchers until September 5, and the union will not make new demands until that time. Then a new agreement will be arranged."

"The association is aiding the Oakland master butchers to get men to take the place of the strikers."

SPOT KILLED, Iowa, July 19.—Union butchers were enjoined today by District Judge J. A. Anderson from picketing meat markets which the union men consider unfair to organized labor.

SLOW UP, BEGS
WOMAN BEFORE
DRIVER IS KILLED

Speed mania is held directly responsible for the auto accident near Antioch last evening that carried E. C. Matthews, Oakland business man, to his death and injured two others.

"I had begged him all the way from Oakland not to go so fast, but he only laughed at me, and said he had been over the road hundreds of times," said Mrs. Mary Matthews of the Castlewood Hotel, Twelfth and Grove streets, Oakland, whose back was bruised and who suffered cuts and bruises. Twelve-year-old Bertha Rubin, daughter of an Antioch business man, also suffered cuts and bruises.

Matthews' machine swerved off highway, ploughed into a field and turned over several times at a curve about a half-mile from Antioch, toward Pittsburg. The curve is not a dangerous one, but Matthews failed to make his turn short enough and his machine struck the soft dirt.

Matthews lived in Knightsen, but was connected with the Page-Whitely Company of Oakland. His widow, a 15-year-old son, both of Knightsen, and sister, Mrs. H. R. Olsen, 5733 Dover street, Oakland, survive him.

Mrs. Goldenhar and her husband formerly conducted the Santa Fe hotel at Antioch. Her husband now has a pawn shop in Oakland.

A speeding auto is declared to have been responsible for an accident in which Mrs. Harvey Parrish and Andrew J. Carroll, both residing at the Roslyn apartments, 1934 Telegraph avenue, were rendered unconscious. The police say that Carroll was forced to suddenly stop his machine because of a speeding auto that passed in front of him. As Carroll stopped a car, driven by H. A. Gilbert, rammed the former's car from the rear.

Mrs. Edith Snyder, 515 East Eighth street, was treated at the emergency hospital for bruises received when knocked down by a motorcycle driven by Frank Maderios.

Jack Wharry, 515 Walsworth street, was painfully but not seriously injured last night when struck down by an auto at Twenty-ninth and Broadway driven by F. O. Bennett of Walnut Creek.

CAR HITS HYDRANT
SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Thos. Hasty, 518 1/2 Farrell street, and A. L. Stewart, 602 Ashbury street, were treated at the Mt. Zion hospital for injuries received when the former's car ran into a fire hydrant at Geary and Scott streets.

Walter Freeman, 14, of 1711 Chestnut street, received a possible fractured skull and other severe injuries when his motorcycle collided with an auto driven by E. D. Harrington, of 2331 Hiale street.

BRIDGEPORT, July 19.—J. C. Miller, of Los Angeles, a captain in the American Legion, died in the town of Bishop from injuries received when his auto went over the grade near Grant Lake. The accident occurred when a Caterpillar glider at some fishermen and lost control of his car.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—George Huddleson, 2367 Pine street, is in the Harbor Emergency Hospital in a serious condition from a possible fractured skull and the police are conducting an investigation to discover how Huddleson suffered the injury.

According to Claude Nicholson, a mechanic, living at 848 Stockton street, he and Huddleson were driving through the Stockton street tunnel when the machine suddenly swerved, throwing out Huddleson, who fell, striking on his head. The police said Huddleson had been lying in the tunnel for some time.

CARLSTON HOME
ROBBERY WORK OF
GLOVED THIEVES

A complete inventory of the articles in the safe of the home of Joseph F. Carlston, president of the Central National and Central Bank of Savings, which was looted Friday night of thousands of dollars worth of valuables, was taken today by Inspectors Richard McSorley and Frank Rossick.

Assisting the inspectors were Miss Belle Cleary, sister of Mrs. Carlston, 123 Lake street; Mrs. Tami Onishi, cook at the Carlston home, and Miss E. E. Cotton, secretary to Carlston at the bank.

Results of the inventory revealed the fact that bronzes and oil paintings, previously reported as stolen were not taken, probably because the burglars did not realize their value. Finger prints of everyone connected with the household have been taken for the purpose of making comparison with those left by the robbers. Gloves were worn part of the time by the vandals, but it is believed that they were removed after the party became imbued with the spirituous liquors which they managed to locate. It was then that several finger prints which may lead to the arrest of the thieves were left on the vault.

A man from the household is believed to have some connection with the robbery, although the police will not say who it is. Miss Cotton, secretary to Carlston, received a telegram from the Carlstons from the north which said that the banker and his wife will be here Tuesday.

The Carlston home is under guard and will be kept so until the investigation is completed, according to the police.

Ryu, Japanese, who resides at 1325 Henry street, is under arrest following a collision between the motorcycle he was riding and an automobile driven by A. C. Clark, 2117 Center street, yesterday morning. The accident occurred at Shattuck avenue and Center street. Ryu was injured. It is charged that Ryu had no operator's license and that he was speeding. The case against Ryu was dismissed by Judge Edgar this morning.

HAYWARD, July 19.—An automobile yesterday forenoon struck Frank Medina as he was riding a bicycle on B street, knocked him down and caused numerous bruises and cuts. The same machine then crashed into the automobile of Calvin P. Hinds. The machine stopped while the bay was taken to drug store, but no one secured the name of the driver.

The automobile of E. R. Dingman of San Francisco yesterday collided with a machine driven by Tony Iredale on Castro street. Both machines were damaged, but the occupants escaped unhurt.

OAKLAND UNDER

WEST' SEPT. 26

One of the largest conclaves ever held in Oakland will convene at Idora Park Sunday, Sept. 26, when overseas veterans, relatives and friends of former members of the Ninety-first (Wild West) Division, of whom there are 20,000, will celebrate the first annual reunion of the organization, on the anniversary of the opening of the Argonne battle. About Digestion.
Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated eat a gentle laxative. Indigestion not only causes a great amount of the bowels but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach. Babes Join Death as They Did Life
Girl Mourns Three of Quadruplets

"Annie," the 20-year-old mother, who six months ago gave birth to four baby girls in the Salvation Army Home at Beulah, today watched two small caskets lowered into one grave at Mountain View Cemetery. Two of the little children to whom she has devoted her nights and days fell ill last week and died. Of the four infants but Doris remains to comfort the young woman, one dying at birth.

For a time it seemed that even that tiny maid would be snatched from her. Today the child is better.

Mother love had sought to save the babies. Dorothy, the eldest, has been ailing since her birth. She weighed three pounds when she died yesterday. The young woman has been constant at the bedside in the Beulah nursery. Doris, harder than her sister, weighed six pounds. Illness developed quickly. She died on Saturday. Little Doris, the only one of the children to survive, weighs less than six pounds.

It was on January 22 of this year that the unmarried mother gave birth to the four infants, making a record in Oakland birth registrations. The young woman refused to give up any of the children, although there were many offers to adopt them, and she would not listen to the offers of marriage which poured in upon her. She has remained in the Salvation Army Home, assisting in the care of the babies.

Troubled With Warm Weather Washday Worries?

Laundress fails to show up.
Going out of town, and leaving hubby behind?
Find warm weather washdays trying?

Here, then, is a sincere suggestion—investigate the family service of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities. You'll enthuse over it.

At your request—a card or telephone will do—any one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities will call for your family bundle.

First, the laundries carefully sort everything—the light from the colored goods; the cottons from the woollens—sort everything into a number of classes.

Then they wash everything—each according to its needs—wash it by an easy, sousing, rinsing, clothes-conserving method, without rubbing or scrubbing—wash it in many baths of fresh, clean water.

And the drying method, too, is good for clothes—warm, pure air that leaves them as sweet-smelling as you could wish.

Such things as bath towels the laundries dry fluffily; flat pieces, like tablecloths and bed linen they daintily iron for you; other things that require it, they starch.

Pieces like dresses and blouses that many housewives prefer to finish themselves, the laundries leave for you to iron. The laundries do fully 80% of the heavy work, leaving you but a few of the lighter details.

This Family Service is a help you'll welcome these warm weather days.

Telephone any one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities today—have a route representative call for your family bundle.
